Spinal Injuries Claims

Our specialist spinal injuries lawyers optimise the financial outcomes for clients while minimising the stress involved in achieving them

Approximately every eight hours in the UK, someone's life changes as a result of a spinal cord injury. Common causes include road traffic accidents, illness or accidents playing sport or at work.

The consequences of these accidents are complex – not just on the personal level, but in terms of the legal processes involved in providing for people's financial futures when they have a life-changing injury. We therefore have a specialist team of lawyers working in this area.

Compensation claims could encompass:

- compensation for injuries or pain resulting from negligence
- costs for the medical treatment/rehabilitation/aftercare required
- loss of earnings and associated benefits.

Practical aftercare

In addition to winning financial compensation, our experience in this sphere enables us to offer other practical support to clients and their loved ones, for example:

- recommendations for a Case Management Service to arrange rehabilitation and support
- signposting to organisations to help adapt claimants' living environments or assist with everyday tasks.

And being a full-service firm, we can advise on other legal aspects such as how to set up a personal injury trust and whether this is the best option to protect a lump sum payout.

All-round support

Throughout every claim, we use state-of-the-art case management software to make the process as efficient and convenient for clients as possible – from allowing them to upload photos from smartphones, to prompt progress reporting along the way.

Wherever possible, we aim to deal with claims on a 'No win, no fee' basis.
